consultor of the Pontifical Biblical Commission. In 1931 he had been awarded the esteemed degree of Master of Sacred Theology by the Master General of the Dominican Order. And in 1955 he had the happiness of quietly celebrating the golden jubilee of his priestly ordination.

Along with Father Ambrose McHugh, O.P., his lifelong companion from the days of novitiate, Father Callan founded The Homiletic and Pastoral Review, of which journal he remained editor emeritus until his death. These two companions also actively engaged in the founding of Dominicana and The Thomist, to which magazines they both contributed their interests and their labors.

Father Callan taught in the Dominican Houses of Study after returning from special post-ordination studies at the University of Fribourg, Switzerland (he had been ordained June 29, 1905 by Bishop James Hartley of Columbus, Ohio). In 1915, both Fathers Callan and McHugh were assigned to teach at Maryknoll seminary where they continued their labors for over forty-five years. At the request of Bishop James E. Walsh, the Superior General of Maryknoll, the then Provincial, Very Rev. T. S. McDermott, O.P., agreed to the interment of Fathers Callan and McHugh at Maryknoll.

On March 1, Father Bernard G. King, O.P., pastor of Holy Rosary Parish, Hawthorne, N. Y., celebrated the Solemn Requiem Mass assisted by Revs. John B. Walsh, O.P., and Joseph B. Soeldner, O.P., as deacon and subdeacon. Very Rev. James J. McLarney, O.P., preached the eulogy. Present at the funeral Mass was Most Rev. John W. Comber, M.M., Superior General of Maryknoll, and Very Rev. William D. Marrin, O.P., Provincial of St. Joseph's Province.

Bishop Comber gave the absolution after the Mass and at the grave. Father Callan is buried in the Maryknoll Seminary Cemetery beside the grave of Father John A. McHugh, O.P. Thus the inspiring life of Very Rev. Charles Jerome Callan, O.P., has ended where so many fruitful years of it were spent, among his beloved "men of Maryknoll." To Father Callan's family and many friends, Dominicana offers heartfelt sympathy.
